Forest and landscape restoration in Africa

29-30 August 2018

AGENDA

Welcome to the Global Landscapes Forum, Nairobi Conference

Every year, Africa loses an estimated 2.8 million hectares of forest, due to deforestation and land degradation seriously affecting its environment and people. The GLF Nairobi 2018 will help build and align international, national and private sector support for forest and landscape restoration, and will pave the way for turning this support into action. By bringing together actors from all backgrounds and sectors, the conference will spark a global conversation around Africa's landscapes.

The GLF Nairobi 2018 will showcase and explore success stories and challenges across the continent and will foster political and community commitment to implement the AFR100 Initiative: restoring 100 million hectares of degraded landscapes across Africa by 2030.
